Comments: I support the mineral withdrawal for multiple reasons - First, because everyone deserves clean water. Second, protecting fishing rights is very important to me personally as an American tradition with the capacity not only to feed families, but also to create family bonding experiences. In addition, access to unspoiled nature - even for fishing and hunting, is one of the few acceptable pastimes for people (especially men) for contemplative practice to relieve stress by connecting with nature and finding stillness in our busy chaotic world.
