

Data Submitted (UTC 11): 10/16/2024 4:00:00 AM

First name: Stan

Last name: Stradley

Organization:

Title:

Comments: Early habitat is so critical for so much wildlife, turkey, deer, woodcock, grouse, song birds, insects, just to name a few. Without such habitat many can't survive. This is without mentioning the forest health. A healthy forest needs a variety of old growth along with new growth. I do not understand why people do not listen to the professionals that clearly once successional forest. I used to hunt Kentucky yearly but I have not the last several years due to the lack of quality habitat.