Comments: It's clear that this project has little to do with preservation and everything to do with land expansion and acquisition. The impact this clearing will have on the surrounding area will be more negative to the residents that already live here, but more importantly to the wildlife in the surrounding forest. If preservation of the homes of animals is truly the goal then the reduction of natural forest flies in the face of that. Either call it what it is, a money issue, or cease the erasure of our natural resources and nature.
