Comments: We are one and we need to respect others and their land as it is shared with everybody. It is precious and eternal on the other hand mining comes , takes and leave the place damaged. It is sin against the higher power of the gift of land and resources to everybody. The pristine places were given to the people along with clean water to live , thrive and receive grace. It is blessed by century blessed gratitude of the PEOPLE of this land. Let's remember RESPECT. We cannot change the rules.

Gratitude will take us longer and to better future.

BLESSINGS TO ALL
