Comments: Good Morning,

Two logging trucks packed with recently cut timber (young trees judging by the load) just sped by my home off of state Hwy 193. Driving over the speed limit these trucks have been a constant nuisance since spring. They bring timber cut in El Dorado National Forest. Hwy 193 and Hwy 49 must endure their weight, high speeds and the noise pollution. I ride my horse through this National forest and nearby private timber lands, and I see clear cutting and the harsh damage done to the surrounding lands. I do not benefit from these harvests, the animals and plant life are destroyed and the trees are often saplings. Who benefits from this rough harvest? Not Californians and not the natural world. Please regulate the logging in California forests. You can ! Do not look away. Please avoid the mistakes of the Caldor Fire and the subsequent loss of the town of Grizzley Flat. Manage California's forest.
