

Data Submitted (UTC 11): 10/24/2024 10:11:01 PM

First name: elizabeth

Last name: kramer

Organization:

Title:

Comments: The last thing we need is more human intervention in nature. Nature - if properly left alone - handles itself. The cycles of death and revitalization all occur naturally. Human interference in the natural cycle of things has always led to devastation. And normally human intervention is spurred by developers and their 'inducements'.