Comments: John Muir would turn over in his beloved grave if he knew what was happening to his beloved forests everywhere. So many people trying to undo everything that protects it and the wonderful helpless animals that live there. Most do not care. I care. Stop the stealing of their homes, their habitats, their lands, their waters, their air, just so some fool can be rich and have millions in his bank account. This land is not for burning, for oil, for people to play on with loud noise and crap and to destroy it at whim and will. Help preserve what is their home, our beloved animals....that have no place else to live. Be a caretaker, not a destroyer. No one has the right to do what these people are trying to do.... Alt. C is better than just outright burning... And lightening is not the cause of most wildfires, people are setting them. I wish it was a death sentence to people who do this for the millions of innocent animals burned alive.
