Comments: Forest Service please expedite the Withdrawal proposal to the Secretary of the Department of Interior. "I support this Withdrawal." The Black Hills of South Dakota's economy depends on the clean water, being able to manufacture and farm. Groundwater is essential for life in the Black Hills and is used for many purposes in western South Dakota; not having clean water will affect the tourists, its recreation, energy production, and other economic sectors needing clean water to focus on its purpose and to help the Black Hills of South Dakota to thrive.
