Comments: The deforestation is taking place all over the world. The forest once cleared will never be the same. Our climate has already changed so much so it is much harder for the plants to grow and establish as a space for different animals and plants. The mono cultural forest are not home for various plants and animals. People need wild places to enjoy and escape from the urbanization. The planet cannot be more paved. With growing temperatures, we cannot effort to clear the forests. They are our protection from the elements!!!
