Data Submitted (UTC 11): 10/29/2024 10:47:28 PM
First name: Kenneth
Last name: Loehlein
Organization:
Title:
Comments: Old growth forests store much more carbon than younger forests. This carbon is released when the forests are cut down. This contributes to climate change.
These forest lands help stop erosion which leads to pollution and loss of wildlife in the streams.
Please concentrate on younger forests for harvesting lumber. Thank you for your consideration.