Comments: This is just another excuse used by corporate America to profit from logging. Congress and all the government agencies have been bought out long ago by them. Their lobbyist write our laws and Congress rubber stamps it. Now that they own the president as well, their greedy hands will be reaching for our throats.

Once these old growth forests are gone, there is no replacing them. Mine and even your voice means nothing. This Public Comment exercise is only to check a box on the approval form.

Try to visit a forest today because they will be gone tomorrow.
