Comments: The entire purpose of this plan is to provide the spaces needed for the maximum opportunity for biodiversity to thrive. Taking away these forests and alternative areas for species such as the spotted owls, murrelets, wolverines for more economic benefit returns us to the 1980's battles for more protections more than ever with the changing environment. Species being afforded the opportunity to survive is paramount for the biodiversity to thrive. This amendment does not accomplish this but only calls for more logging discised by fear of fires. Please do not accept this dycotomy.
