Comments: I say work on exploring BLM land and discover what can be out there so later you guys can mark some dry spots that people can see and be a hazard to so eliminate the dry areas first if there is any but, If that doesn't happen then regulate and ask any timber company if its ok to not push so much ads and commercials for it if that makes sense. Also you should ban anyone near dry areas or areas like that around deep parts of the forests should go to court or jail for the time being, Anyways and this Amendmant should be taking pretty serious if any wildfires do happen because it can put everyone's life on the line.
