Comments: I can't help but suspect that the forest service is colluding with Powder and their plans to create a resort for year round recreation. The sneaky back door sale of the property smells as bad as the political stench to make this resort happen no matter what local residents say. Odd, and coincidentally we just filled out a public questionnaire for the swan valley community council related to expansion of business and property developments. So the old plan last year to deforest a huge swath of forest land between Hwy 83 and the Bob Marshall mountains isn't a conspiracy theory anymore? Seems to be a done deal now. I'm thinking some palms got greased. The property tax increases recently and the ones coming again this year seem to be designed to run locals out of the valley. Just like all the recent job losses. Good to see the Dimocraps working hard to scheme and plot the destruction of generations of families and the natural habitat of massive amounts of wild game. Good job.
