Comments: I am very excited to see attention being paid to the lack of mountain biking trails in Tucson. I like the idea of "Bug Junior," but if you are creating a mtb specific downhill trail, I think it should not have pedestrian access. Mountain bikers have literally zero trails just for them in the Tucson area... this could finally be a trail just for us. With this in mind, I want to see skills progression opportunities like optional jump and drop lines that are well built. If we aren't going to get a bike park, then we should at least make this trail different than the slow technical trails or cross country mtb trails in the area. I'm itching to see real jumps, real drops, berms, and FUN mountain biking!! If this happens, hikers being there will be dangerous and unnecessary when Bugs Springs is already multiuse.
