Comments: We took note of the "for" and "against" public comments from the first round of public comments, and know that over 90% of the comments were AGAINST the proposed logging in the Telephone Gap public forest.

It's baffling that your team, as public servants, could so blatantly ignore the will of the public which has been so clear.

You're on the wrong side of history on this, no matter what you tell yourselves. And this will not be forgotten.
