Comments: Montlure Camp is a special place. It has been around for 100 years now. SO many people have been able to spend time there as a camper as a child to an adult helping as counselor. Montlure Camp is so important to so many. It gives children a place to spend time in nature in the forest away from the city and towns with technologies and business of life. Kids have a place here to unplug in nature. To have a safe place to unplug and be in nature allows the kids to learn about nature and take proper care of it. Montlure Camp helps the kids learn the importance of what nature. Today, our children need Montlure Camp now more than before to connect with others from other cities and to reconnect with nature.
