Comments: as a 50 year guide mostly private with some years as a commercial giude, throughout the mountain west, including Glacier and the Flathead, I observe money has become the. primary large influencer when it come to making river management decisions, especially as it pertains to river management.

Our special waterways are here for all the people to enjoy and marvel at their beautiful country. For a few large for profit concerns to control such a large allotment of river time ,space, and opportunity, limits both time and enjoyment to an entire segment who also want to have access.

I strongly implore you in your final decision making to consider the impact the proposed high volume of river days you control, what is best for everyone, and certainly what is best for our beautiful stretch of Wild and scenic river.
