Comments: No one can reasonably look at the effects of climate change, all the floods, tornadoes, hurricanes, etc, due to human caused pollution and exploitation of the Earth, and still deny that we as humans have no had a significant hand in our own demise. Climate change and it's affects are blatantly obvious, and anyone who denies that reality is being intentionally ignorant, and cruelly heartless to all of our planets inhabitants. It is imperative we save our planet from any further drilling, mining, logging, exploitation, and pollution of any kind. Every remaining animal species is dependent on the remaining habitats that must be protected, not just for them, but for all of us. None of us can afford any more intentional destruction of our planet and its resources. Please SAVE OUR PLANET and EVERY living being that lives on it! Anything less is irresponsible, unconscionable, and cruel to EVERY living being, humans included, both now and in the future.
