Comments: My husband and I are very much opposed to the Forest Service's proposal to overhaul the 1994 Northwest Forest Plan. We were informed this change would increase logging on federal lands by 33% to 200%. It is our belief that the NWFP has helped restore damage done by unsustainable logging, and undoing the protections that plan provides would be a grave mistake.

These lands belong to all of us. We are counting on you to do the right thing and not gut the NWFP.
