Comments: Have been visiting Mendocino forrest all my life and supporting sustainable forrest both federal and state level hoping to see places like lake pillsbury ranch with its rich history and early year 2800 acres of pristine wildlife preserve . To experience such beauty starting at an early age is something i hold very dear spending time with Jack Hailey who was part owner of land along with fuller & Dupont family's Jack being legandary actor who played the TIN man in movie the wizard of oz i grew up going to this special place experiencing the history of hollywood legends seeing documented history's of presidential visits to property not to mention the many many famous celebrity's . I have always been greatfull for this and respectfull for the facts that made such a place possible and what work it has been for he people who over the yeas have worked and fight so hard to protect for further generation ! Albeit is no where what it use to be in the early 1970's it was maintained as preserved as best it could be according law and regulation ever changing government polices and state level protections ! so having experienced the changes over decades it is horrifying and tragically devastating to see the dams being removed to restore the rivers free flow and the excitement for the future health of the land to be restored , only now to be under threat f no protections for same said land and forrest ! I understand the need to support logging and industry as well as need for us supply And the impotence of wildfire protections ! But i also believe that cut old growth timber or clear cutting 120 yr old once protected forrest is not a acceptable solution ! Trump rushing into to remve these protection says everything about he state of our country if he does not care about the trees and the people who governed them then what will be left in calif. old growth being removed affect every other climate and landscape staewide and it is terrifying long term outcome that will just be a thing that once was but is never more!!!!
