Comments: Trees may live longer than us but they're is a story that we are out of touch with due to logging and other activities , we need Doug firs and other trees to reach these old ages to see one day what a healthy forest looks like , in every approach to sustainable harvesting people exaggerate and embellish the practice even in fire mitigation , please refrain from encroaching on national forests and protected lands for even despite political differences they're is surely an activity we engage in on all political sides that we take enjoyment in in the forest from foraging to hunting and anything else . Thank you
