Comments: For three decades, our Northwest Forest Plan has been protecting our forests, streams, and habitat for endangered species such as the Northern Spotted Owl, the Marbled Murrelet, and various fish. Another endangered species affected by the plan is the human race - us! To survive in the future, humans will need old growth forests and clean rivers to help mitigation to the effects of the climate chaos that increasingly surrounds us.

For these reasons, please maintain our strong Forest Plan. Prioritize life over logging. It makes no sense on any level to open our national forests to logging.
