

Data Submitted (UTC 11): 3/16/2025 10:35:38 PM

First name: Cami

Last name: Miceli

Organization:

Title:

Comments: We need to protect our old growth forests from logging, now than more ever. Cutting down trees, especially trees as old and established as these, will release large amounts of carbon into the atmosphere, contributing to global CO2 emissions that are already far too high. If we stand any chance of lowering the expected degree of warming in decades to come, then we need to act decisively now and create a way to a more sustainable future.