Comments: The forest is home to so many unique animals and plants. It is our responsibility to protect the mature growth trees who help clean our air and make our planet a little more livable. This action to open up these forests to logging will have devastating long term effects, including pushing species to extinction, decreasing tourism to the area, and opening the area to more fire damage and mudslides. Do not take away the beauty of this land from the communities who live nearby and the Indigenous people. It is worth so much more to us as is than it will be if logged and destroyed.
