Comments: No living organism can live with good health without clean air and water. Given that global warming does exist and can be seen around the entire globe having catastrophic weather conditions that did not exist fifty years ago when Al GORE ran for president and warned us that the SCIENTIFIC COMMUNITY of scientists foresaw this coming and warned us about it. Instead of taking actions at this time BUSH Jr. became president and started a war and did not heed the warnings.

The forests, the trees on earth, filter our air and our water and remove all the bad carbons from pollutants. The trees help keep the earth cool by shading it and when the winds come it reduces damages to the locations by buffering the winds and stopping the damaging effects that come from tornadoes, Hurricanes and so much more. When you remove the forests it will exacerbate severe weather conditions and cause the globe to continue warming the earth surfaces.
