Comments: I am for updating that recognizes the crisis proceeding in world climate.

My background includes BS and MS in Agriculture and extensive field experience with many government agencies including USDA. I am also a fifty year resident in Oregon.

The Heat Barrier of 128 degrees Fahrenheit or 53 degrees Centigrade is reached and passed several times recently. At this temperature work ceases and humans leave. That society collapses.

Fire will be inevitable in these coming years, as government policy toward climate deterioration proves inadequate. One cannot imagine worse fires than we have seen recently. Future fires will be much larger, without radical remedy occurring immediately. In reality, our great forest stands will burn.
