

Data Submitted (UTC 11): 3/17/2025 8:45:22 PM

First name: Frances

Last name: Germeshausen

Organization:

Title:

Comments: The forests of the Northwest are worth more if left in their natural state than they are worth as timber. They clean the air. They protect wildlife. They trap carbon. They provide opportunities for recreation which bring revenue to the small towns in their vicinity. They are beautiful.

Please reject changes for the Northwest Forest Plan that serve only the short term greed of a regime that will not last as long as the forests.