Comments: Please protect our old growth forest from logging. These forests are priceless and will never be replaced in our nor our grandchildren's lifetime if ever. Old Growth forests must be protected for our future . These forests are invaluable ecosystems, rich in biodiversity, history, and the balance they provide for the planet. Their destruction can have irreversible consequences for both wildlife and human communities. Advocating for their protection is crucial to ensuring that future generations can experience and benefit from the unique wonders these forests provide . Monoculture tree farms lack the complexity, depth, and life found in ancient forests. Don't confuse a tree farm for an Old Growth Ancient Forest. There's no comparison.
