Comments: I support continued funding of the national parks system in all its facets. I support keeping the lands that are currently set aside for conservation rather than for resource extraction. I support prohibiting mining them in any way for resource extraction. I support continued funding for adequate to ample staffing. These people will be the some of the key ones who understand nature, something important as it becomes more we navigate natural and human made disasters. Protected natural habitats are almost unanimously better at withstanding extreme climate and weather issues, as opposed to over farmed, over populated, distressed environments humans have overtaken.
