Comments: logging our national forests puts old growth forests & wildlife at risk. many wildlife species including the northern spotted owl & marbled murrelet need these forests, as do we as humans. these forests, when intact, helps fight climate change as well as wildfire risks. i support tribal stewardships, but do not support logging increases. as an oregonian i value recreation, clean water & fish habitats, over timber profits. furthermore we can't increase the the logging limits 120-150 years.
