Comments: Please don't sell our forests to the highest bidder. Now more than ever we need to think about the health and wellbeing of our life preserving ecosystems. Wildfire season is coming, and without a healthy forest we will be reduced to cinders. The trees, shrubs, fungi, and animals which make up our forests help protect our ways of life and water system. What will Oregon be when loggers haphazardly take all of our nature. Please say no to the logging permits and think more holistically about land management.
