Comments: Such a significant reconstruction project that my family fully supports. Recreation is the number one "industry" in the eastern sierra. It is not only a matter of the livelihood for so many local residents but an essential part of our humanity. At a time when there is a potential push to privatize sectors of public lands we must do everything possible to deepen our connection to nature. We must conserve & develop trails to allow the public to reclaim personal growth & reflection by communing with the natural world. "Of all the paths you take in life, make sure a few of them are dirt."
