Comments: Any fuels reduction project in the Bozeman area must include trail considerations. This is a clear opportunity to piggyback off of the existing environmental review process for this project to develop additional trail infrastructure. Especially given the location of this project and its proximity to existing trails, parking lots, etc. Bozeman's trails are overcrowded and inventory has not kept up with demand. Work with us to put some thoughtful, well built, environmentally sound bike trails in the areas that have been recently logged or fuels reduced.
