Comments: I am adding to my previous comments as I forgot something:

Reducing the amount of cars (by not allowing cars on downhill side) while adding a shuttle service will not decrease the amount of people coming to the canyon (unless you put actual limits per day) .

Again, the volunteers and cabin owners (many of whom also volunteer) are cleaning up the trash and human waste left behind.

And assisting lost/hurt hikers

I know this first hand because I assist in checking the cabins weekly for the cabin owners association.
