Comments: How dare you? No shame!! You could be doing something so much meaningful for the world and your own image or legacy yet you decide to tear into the lands that care for you. Make it make sense. All for some dollars!?!? Money is not going to do anything for you this Mother Earth isn't already doing. Instead of further damaging this earth like every other money hungry fool, how about doing something to help earth recover. Do you not think of future generations? And your grandchildren if you have any?? If you didn't it would make sense to why you are so selfish. Only a person who isn't satisfied with themselves would want to dig and destroy on the outside. It doesn't have to be that way. It's a choice. And we can change our minds whenever we want. I hope you find the good in yourself to choose to protect our home, this earth. Maybe lead a whole new path, and you will find the people will support you. Real people.

I am requesting the Forest Service to do an EIS on this project.

I am also requesting a 60 day extension of the 'scoping' public comment period.
