

Data Submitted (UTC 11): 5/1/2025 2:19:24 AM

First name: Sarah

Last name: Sebastiao

Organization:

Title:

Comments: The white mountains are one of the most beautiful natural environments left in New Hampshire. The animals need their habitat. To cut and destroy the forest thousands of animals will be without a home. Thousands of people come to Mount Moosilauke every year to climb 1 of the 48 4000 footers of NH. To destroy the beautiful view could also have an impact on local small towns who rely on tourism.