Comments: I am writing in support of the Holland Lake Lodge project now that the new ownership group is seeking only the same permit terms as the existing operation. I know we can all speculate in fear about what they may do, but I think we have to see how they operate and take it from there if there are issues. If the USFS will allow them to pump the holding tank to operate, and monitoring of the lake is part of the issuance, I don't think there will be a problem. I'd like to see this operation active rather than rotting away.
