Comments: Given the potential to use graphene for things we need we still need to proceed responsibility with care for environment and ecosystems that in an extreme interconnected way sustain us and life....

Extraction from already burdened earth should be last resort. We can do better. Please prove we cannot responsibly extract from over carbonated atmosphere first and ensure overall a net zero or net gain for our amazing planet. All have to live by oath: "First do no harm" as the need for a cared for environment continues after demagogue and toxic profiteering are gone. We need viable water, air earth for life to be sustainable.

Help.
