

Data Submitted (UTC 11): 5/13/2025 5:56:27 PM

First name: Adina

Last name: McClelland

Organization:

Title:

Comments: Pe'Sla is an ancient holy site to which the Lakota people still return for ceremonial gathering annually, as well as for individual spiritual purposes throughout the year. This site is irreplaceable to multiple tribe's religious practices. Aside from the environmental dangers of this project, the greater impact is the location at the sacred site known as Pe'Sla. This project is a violation of Tribal treaty rights and an attack on Indigenous cultural values.