Comments: Please do not issue a permit for this company to do any exploratory or actual mining activity on this sacred land. In additon to being a sacred place for this Tribe, it has been an intregal part of their Native culture for millenia. Lands that have both cultural significance and religioius importance often are of biological diversity and contain rare native flora and fauna. This area, given all the above reasons, is too valuable in too many ways to damage or destroy by mining or exploration of any kind.
