Comments: Please do not allow mining in these sacred lands. It is a sacrilege to Mother Earth, and it pollutes our lands, streams, and even particulate matter becomes airborne and can infect our delicate lung-tissue. The need for precious earth resources should be met by recycling the elements which have already been extracted once, and exist in the trash and waste produced by our endless demand for consumer goods. Creating a circular economy will protect Mother Earth, and reduce the gargantuan piles of detritus covering more acres and acres of our precious lands.
