Attn: Comment Reviewing Officer

Already in 2012 the Lakota people won protection for their sacred site of Pe'Sla in the Black Hills. Now because of efforts to mine this land once again they are having to fight for the right to protect their sacred land. Imagine if it were your home, or that of your children and sacred for 100's of years. This land must not be mined. For the health of the land and its ancient and still living inhabitants.

Thank you for your consideration
