Comments: This land is sacred to a people who lived on this land before anyone else. The ecocide that is being committed in the name of "progress" which is really greed... it's unthinkable. People are rising up to protect the land, because in the end it is only Mother Earth who can save us. The land should be free and unplundered. It will provide everything we need if we only take care of it. We must understand how we can live in harmony, balance, symbiosis with the earth. It is only then that we will truly have beautiful life upon this planet.
