Comments: The Black Hills are such an important landmark, one that will be at risk if the Rochford Mineral Exploratory Drilling Project goes through. Not only will it disrupt the practices of the Lakota people, but it will disrupt the environment as a whole. You must require an Environmental Impact Statement for this project, and give everyone an earnest opportunity to speak by giving a 60-day extension of the public comment period. We must protect the world we live in, not drain it dry. Do not go through with the Rochford Mineral Exploratory Drilling Project!
