Comments: This land should be protected due to its religious and ceremonial importance to the Lakota, Dakota, and Nakota people origin story. This land is crucial in understanding the Oceti Sakowin nation. If we can protect churches, graveyards, historic battle sites with catastrophic deaths then we can protect a sacred site intended to keep the harmony of the Universe. We must preserve the history of our nation, good and bad. Our future generations deserve to see Pe'Sla as a sacred, beautiful display of harmony and atonement.
