

Data Submitted (UTC 11): 5/16/2025 11:18:45 PM

First name: Sara

Last name: Lafleur-Vetter

Organization:

Title:

Comments: The Black Hills are sacred to the Lakota people. We must protect these areas at all costs. The local ecosystems demand that we not interfere. Respect the constitution, protect our treaties. Leave the Black Hills alone. It's all there in the Fort Larime treaty. If you drill in this area, you are violating the supreme law of the land. Somethings are more important than corporations and capitalism. But even if you don't agree, you still must abide by the constitution.