Comments: I support Projects 58258. Grand Targhee Resort at Fred's Mountain is an established area for people to recreate. When one considers the vast area west of the Tetons, it occupies a relatively small amount of land yet is an economic and recreational treasure for area residents as well as others. Responsible expansion, as detailed in this project will neither harm the environment nor will it damage the surrounding land. I ski/hike at Targhee after the area closes in the late spring. Within days of its closure, the serenity of the mountains returns, as evidenced by my grizzly bear and deer sightings near the resort entrance.
