Comments: I support option 3. With global warming and the decline of the ski/snowboard industry in general, it makes no sense to add proposed additions to accessible terrain. I am opposed to any development in Ricks Basin, and to facilities at the top of any lifts, with the exception of facilities on top of Sacajawea.

The current base facilities need to be enlarged, with adequate space for skiers to warm up without eating purchased food.

I don't see anything in the master plan addressing parking concerns.
