Comments: To Whom It May Concern,

We are in a critical time of saving and preserving our lands. What we do now has consequences for the future.

We live in pristine and beautiful country here in Utah. That is why many have come to these lands for the wilderness. Not only does taking away the land, the trees harm the quality of beauty but it impacts the wildlife.

Consider all the noise and all that it takes to construct the roads to get to what you want that will only last for a short amount of time. We truly must save these places for now and all future generations. Being in the forest is quality for the whole being and soul. Please keep the land free.

Sincerely,

Kelley Ingols
